'An unacceptable burden'

Plans for 502 homes put on hold as concerns raised over infrastructure

By Eva Astreinidou

A DECISION on controversial plans to build 502 homes in Wallingford has been delayed.

The proposals to build the homes on land north of the Wallingford bypass have been criticised by neighbours and local officials who say the plans will ruin the town's historic setting and burden the local infrastructure.

South Oxfordshire District Council has deferred the decision on the plans following a request for a site visit last week by the planning committee.

Wallingford resident Andrew Millar is opposed to the plans. He said: "I object most strongly to this application, which has been made several times previously and, correctly, rejected. This repeated application cannot be allowed to succeed.

"Five hundred houses is more than previously recommended and will overflow the capacity of the historic market town of Wallingford.

"This is far too much far too quickly and the council has a responsibility to think clearly and act decisively in the interests of the town's residents."

Fellow opponent Graham Wren said: "[The] town centre already struggles to cope with existing traffic flows and has insufficient parking to meet the needs of shoppers. Traffic generated by the new development will result in gridlock in the town centre."

He added that Wallingford medical practice would be unable to cope with the additional patients generated by the proposed development.

Wallingford councillor Lynda Atkins agreed saying the plans would place 'an unacceptable burden on the town's infrastructure'.

"SODC are saying that we will need to have an additional 295 homes in the town in the latest draft of the Local Plan so this is for far more than needed, and we are just not set up to cope with that.

"Just one example is the impact on our sewage system, which Thames Water has said may not cope with this number of new homes.

"It is an issue which has caused considerable problems in some parts of the town in the past, and it is an essential issue which, when things go wrong, is very distressing for those affected. There are many other areas, including secondary schooling, where there is simply no capacity in place."

The meeting to consider this application will now be held on November 8.

The plans submitted in January by developer Kemp&Kemp, who were acquired by Carter Jonas in July, are recommended for approval by SODC planning officers, much to the surprise of residents.

Kemp&Kemp were unavailable for comment.

From Kenya to Didcot for Masai warriors who entertained at Aureus School at Great Western Park

Warriors given warm welcome at school

PUPILS in Didcot had the chance to find out more about life in Africa with a lively performance from Masai warriors.

The Osiligi troupe put on a show for students at Aureus School at Great Western Park.

The seven-piece group comes from the village of Oleopolos and surrounding communities in southern Kenya, around 30 miles south of Nairobi. Members have been holding an annual tour of the UK since 2003.

The troupe raises awareness of the Masai culture on its visits, raising money for their families and the wider community.

Since 2003 a new clinic, orphanage, church/community centre and fresh water have all been achieved as a direct result of the tour.

Improved bus lanes and cycle route for busy road

By Samantha McGregor

IMPROVEMENT plans to a busy major route into Oxford city centre have been given a multi-million pound boost.

Oxfordshire County Council has secured £5million from the Department for Transport's national productivity investment fund, which will be used to make significant cycle and public transport improvements in congested Botley Road a reality.

The Botley Road project aims to improve the stretch of road between Binsey Lane and Eynsham Road for pedestrians, cyclists and buses.

In total the project will cost almost £7m – the extra cash has been secured through developer funding and other grants. Plans include creating a dedicated cycle super route and better bus lanes to speed up journeys.

Footpaths will be upgraded and there will be more pedestrian crossings.

Cllr Yvonne Constance, the county council's cabinet member for transport, said: "This is excellent news as it will help deliver another element of the Oxford Transport Strategy and deliver the kind of sustainable transport improvements that will please a great many people and make for far easier journeys into the city.

"The scheme ticks a number of boxes as cyclists, pedestrians and bus users will benefit.

"The local community should also see an improvement in air quality when everything is in place and being used and, for traffic that still has to use the road, journeys should be easier."

The council also want to reduce the number of private vehicles using the road and encourage more journeys by bus, bicycle and on foot to improve air quality along the route.

The funding will also pay to resurface the road and the installation of 'Smart City' sensors to enable the collection and transmission of a range of traffic and travel information.

Detailed design work will now take place before a consultation on the final plans.

A date has yet to be set for the work to take place, but the funding will be released over two years from 2018.

Kirsty, who completed a two-year diploma in Early Years Education and Care at the college's Witney campus, has already won the college's student of the year award.

She said: "I'm very pleased to have received this nomination, it recognises all the hard work I put into studying for my Level 3 Diploma in Early Years, and having to balance learning with all the other things that were happening in my life."

Kirsty is now at Oxford Brookes University studying for a degree in primary education.

College principal Di Batchelor said: "Kirsty has done fantastically well in receiving this nomination from the AoC and we're all very proud of her.

"We'll all have our fingers crossed for Kirsty in November."

The winner will be announced at the AoC conference dinner on November 14.

A GROUP of charitable elves need your help to spread Christmas joy to children who are in hospital.

Play2Give will be paying a visit to the Children's Hospital at the John Radcliffe to donate toys and gifts on December 17 and are asking people to take part to truly make it a merry occasion for the young patients.

Sleigh2Give will deliver a bundle of gifts and meet patients and their parents.

Speaking about this year's appeal, founder Andy Baker said: "It will sure be an emotional visit but filled with joy and cheers to lift spirits and smiles."

The charity has already received a tremendous boost, with the team at Didcot's Changing Lives donating £2,700 worth of gifts to this year's appeal.

The charity is hoping to collect new toys and gifts for boys and girls of all ages.

Presents do not need to be wrapped, but if they are they must be labelled with age and gender.

In 2016 the charity received more than 3,000 donations thanks to support and generosity from schools, supermarket customers, companies and individuals.

Awards cheer for group tackling teens drinking

By George Welch

AN alcohol awareness group will be raising their glasses after amassing three national awards for tackling underage drinking in south Oxfordshire.

The Wantage and Grove Community Alcohol Partnership (CAP) won the honours for a series of activities tackling excessive drinking, including themed flyers, giving advice at local events and an 'alcohol action day' at King Alfred's Academy.

King Alfred pupil Jacob Creed also won a competition to have his stencil sprayed in chalk in locations across the towns.

Councillor Eric Batts, Vale cabinet member for community safety; James Maddern, assistant head at King Alfred's Academy; PC Sarah Merritt; Georgina Hicks, Sweatbox; Nigel Watts, coordinator of Wantage and Grove Street Pastors and chair of Wantage and Grove CAP. Inset, pupil Jacob Creed's stencil sprayed in Wantage and Grove

There has been a 28 per cent decrease in the number of incidents of underage drinking being reported since CAP's formation in 2015.

There has also been a 69 per cent reduction in attempts by underage drinkers to buy alcohol in the local area, and an eight per cent increase in the number of young people (Year 9 to 11) who do not drink at all.

Nigel Watt, the chairman of Wantage and Grove CAP, received the CAP of the Year award on behalf of the group from MP Fiona Bruce, chairwoman of the All Party Parliamentary Group on Alcohol Harm.

Head of engagement and ethos at King Alfred's Academy, James Maddern was presented with an individual accolade for Excellence in Education, while TVP's Laura Warner was highly commended for her contributions to the group.

Mr Maddern said: "King Alfred's Academy has been working closely with the CAP over the past year. We are committed to educating our students on the dangers of underage drinking as well as promoting the ethos of being responsible, respectable and safe."

Mr Watt said it was "great to get some recognition" for the "really hard work" the team had put in.

Under a community alcohol partnership, local councils, retailers, police, health services, education providers and other local stakeholders work together on initiatives to tackle the problem.

Wantage and Grove CAP beat more than 150 other partnerships nationwide to claim the accolade.

Campaigners' fence fury

CAMPAIGNERS are furious valuable land has been fenced off after plans to build 170 homes on the same site were rejected.

Residents in East Hagbourne were alarmed to find a 6ft fence blocking views on fields on New Road, more than a year after a planning application was rejected on the grounds of harm to the countryside.

Campaign group Mind the Green Gap fought for the plans to be refused at a South Oxfordshire District Council meeting in May 2016.

Jane Hoskin who lives opposite the site said: "Grainger [the developer] claim the fence is to protect the land from trespass. But this is nonsense – there is no trespass problem. They also say SODC asked them to do it, but this is just a smoke screen to hide their motives. The site could have been fenced without hiding the view."

A spokesperson from Grainger said: "We received a complaint from SODC regarding noise and nuisance caused by trespassing on our land by motorbikes and we were requested to secure the land to prevent access by motorbikes. We have therefore had to erect a fence. We've been open and transparent on this matter and have supplied proof of this request to anyone that has asked, including members of the Mind the Green Gap."

An appeal by Grainger in April was rejected, citing overexpansion and blocking of valued landscape.

Andy Barmer, chair of the Mind the Green Gap Campaign added: "The view of The Secretary of State's independent planning inspector was extremely clear. She said the views should remain open, as development would 'have a significant adverse effect on the character and appearance of a valued landscape'. This is exactly what this dreadful eyesore does."

A judicial review will be held on October 31.

Campaigners in tears as homes opposite school given approval

By Eva Astreinidou

TEARS streamed down the faces of campaigners who had fought tooth and nail against plans to build homes opposite a school.

An application for 74 homes on land next to the village hall in Main Road, East Hagbourne, was approved at a South Oxfordshire District Council planning meeting.

Hundreds of people were left 'absolutely gobsmacked' after the decision campaign group Red Light Greenlight had fought so hard against, was passed.

Lead campaigner Susan Spring said: "We are devastated. We fear for the safety of the children. School places will also be above capacity so parents will be moving kids to other schools- they won't want siblings to attend different schools."

Members of the group, many of whom were at Didcot Civic Hall to hear the decision on Wednesday last week, were opposed to the plans on safety grounds.

The campaigners had said they felt the added congestion would endanger children using a crossing to access the school's playing fields.

In an appeal to the planning committee, Ali Junkinson said: "Do the right thing. No child's life should be put at risk to make a profit."

Councillor David Turner, who represents Chalgrove, voted against approval. He said: "If something were to happen I cannot have this on my conscience."

East Hagbourne resident Max Bearing spoke in favour of the plan at the meeting.

Sitting next to Philip Rawle from developer Greenlight, he said: "I feel it is wrong to pull up a drawbridge and deny to others the advantages of a village life that I and my family have enjoyed."

He added: "This estate will create villages and many residents will come to participate in village affairs and balance out the old cogs such as myself."

Mr Rawle added: "The proposal is for the right development, at the right place, at the right time because this is a sustainable development and because the national deficit in housing has to be made as soon as possible."

The campaign group had previously launched a petition collecting more than 250 signatures to demand a safety audit was carried out by the developers.

Mr Rawle confirmed a road safety audit team who visited the site during school drop-off time had no objections to the plans.

Decision to axe housing cheered

CHEERS from hundreds of people echoed through Didcot Civic Hall as plans to build 135 homes were rejected.

Despite advice from planning officers to approve the plans for Park Road, campaigners were overjoyed when the decision went their way at the meeting on Wednesday last week.

Following the decision, lead campaigner from Save Loyd Road Fields, Dave Llewellyn said: "I am ecstatic that it has been refused, it is great news. We felt as though Didcot was under attack with all these speculative plans.

"There were very valid reasons to refuse it."

Mr Llewellyn spoke passionately at the meeting against the proposals by developer Catesby, claiming the development would ruin the 'last bit of green boundary' in the area.

Dave Llewellyn, chair of the Save Loyd Road Fields campaign ahead of the meeting
Picture: Andy Barmer

He said: "With 319 objection letters submitted, there is a loud voice that needs to be heard by the council. We appreciate there needs to be more housing, but opportunistic land-grabbing is not a solution."

Councillor Jane Murphy, who lives in Didcot, also spoke against the plans, saying: "I recognise we have a huge problem with housing demand. And I know this puts the committee in a tough position [but] some things are worth fighting for."

Councillor Toby Newman, who chaired the meeting and put forward the motion to refuse the application, said: "The site is in the middle of a very strong green boundary and would diminish the enjoyment of beautiful views."

Dawn Adams from Catesby, tried to defend the plans saying the social benefits and the contribution to affordable housing outweighs the loss of countryside.

Jailed for stealing £1,000 of alcohol

A 37-year-old man has been jailed after breaking into a Budgens supermarket and stealing alcohol worth around £1,000.

John Young, of no fixed address, pleaded guilty to burglary at Oxford Magistrates' Court on October 12 and was sentenced at the same hearing.

On February 12 at around 5am Young, along with an unidentified person, broke a window of Budgens supermarket in Marlborough Street, Faringdon.

They forced entry to the property and stole spirits worth around £1,000.

Young was charged with the offence in August.

He was jailed for a year and four months and ordered to pay a victim surcharge of £140.

Helicopter funding

A £90m investment has been granted to RAF Benson to fund its high-tech helicopter simulation centre.

The centre has seven immersive simulators allowing pilots and crews to practise scenarios such as flying under enemy fire.

The money from the Ministry of Defence will be used to extend a contract with CAE Aircrew Training Services, the company which provides the training.

The government's investment will help sustain 70 jobs and will last eight years.

Crews from the RAF, Navy and Army will continue to benefit from the six Chinook, Puma and Merlin helicopter simulators.

The average hourly cost of real-life training in such helicopters ranges from about £12,000 to £15,000, whereas the simulators cost just £1,000 to £1,200 for the same amount of time.

THE ambitious Westgate Oxford shopping centre finally opened its doors to the public with a show of acrobatics and ribbon-cutting ceremonies to unveil the new shops.

Just 64 of the expected 100 shops opened on Tuesday morning, with 12 restaurants and cafes also ready to welcome new customers.

The £440million venture created up to 1,000 construction jobs and an additional 3,400 retail positions.

There are a total 125 units inside the centre, with 90 of those expected to be filled by Christmas.

Plans for the centre were approved in 2014 and construction started in early 2015, after several pitches for redevelopment plans over the years.

Oxford City Council leader Bob Price said: "I'm delighted to see the opening of the redeveloped Westgate, especially after having seen so many proposed schemes come and go unrealised over the years. From regularly having to listen to residents and visitors complaining that shopping in Oxford is disappointing, we now have a regionally competitive shopping, eating and entertainment destination."

The council has worked with Westgate Oxford Alliance, Oxfordshire County Council, and bus operators Oxford Bus and Stagecoach to come up with plans which include expanding Seacourt Park and Ride by adding 1,000 extra spaces, as well as promoting use of buses and cycling.

Oxford Bus Company also deployed six extra customer service staff in the city to help customers familiarise themselves with the new centre layout.

Opening hours are Monday to Friday 10am to 8pm, Saturday 9am to 8pm and Sunday 11am to 5pm.

John Lewis offers all-round experience

THE 120,000 sq ft John Lewis store opened its doors to a queue of eager shoppers on Tuesday.

The three-storey shop promises to offer customers a 'concierge style' shopping experience, including daily events and more than 21 different services.

This includes free personal styling for men and women, free technology training workshops to help customers get the most out of their purchases, John Lewis's first express nail and brow bar, as well as travel advice and eye tests.

The store will also host John Lewis's first brand experience manager who will be on hand to tell customers about offers and book them on to exclusive events happening that day.

Julie Blake, the branch manager, said: "We cannot wait to welcome customers into the shop and tell them about all it has to offer; from pampering to fashion advice, dinner at our fantastic new rooftop Scandinavian restaurant and workshops and demonstrations on the very latest tech products. We also have over 1,000 brands, 16 premium beauty counters and many comfy places to have a rest."

ABC helps to understand gene risk

A LOCAL charity is leading the way to try to understand how genes can increase the risk of the most common cancer in women worldwide.

Abingdon-based Against Breast Cancer helped collect DNA samples as part of two international studies to help improve screening, earlier detection and treatments against the cancer.

The samples collected for the charity's diet and lifestyle study will contribute to a wider body of work through an analysis and comparison of the genes of women with and without breast cancer.

Dr Nicola Winstone, research manager for ABC, said doctors are able to test family members for some gene mutations allowing them to make lifestyle changes.

She added: "However, when these tests return a negative result it doesn't rule out that inherited factors are at work because we haven't yet defined all of these types of genetic mutations.

"This large-scale research defines many new inheritable mutations which will help identify more individuals at a higher risk of developing breast cancer."

The charity have directly funded the collection of, and continue to fund, the storage of more than 23,000 blood and urine samples, provided annually by more than 3,300 women with breast cancer from 56 hospitals across the UK for their diet and lifestyle study, the largest national study of its kind.

into its stores and restaurants

SHOPPERS in Oxford city centre were treated to an unsual show on Saturday when steampunk performers took over the streets.

New bar, The Alchemist, is one of 12 restaurants and bars welcoming customers into the Westgate and held the street theatre takeover as a rather unconventional promotion.

The venue which employs 75 full and part-time staff, specialises in creating stunning cocktails.

Simon Potts, managing director of The Alchemist, said: "We wanted our arrival in Oxford to be impactful and unconventional to inspire locals to imagine things differently, which is part of our brand vision. Oxford is a fantastic city full of spirit, intrigue and history - with an unrivalled food and drink scene."

'Celebrity' couple mark 40 years of foster care

By Eva Astreinidou

FOSTER parents who have become 'local celebrities' are celebrating a remarkable four decades of looking after children.

Abingdon couple Rosalie and Rod James, both 77, celebrated their landmark achievement with family, friends and former foster children at Northcourt Centre last week.

The couple have lost track of the number of children they have cared for over the decades, but said it would be 'comfortably in the hundreds'.

Last year they had 17 children, with some only staying for a very short time.

And although they admit they are 'getting old', they are still going strong in the role with three children currently in their care.

Mrs James, a foster care coordinator, said at the event: "The youngest child we had was five days old and the oldest was almost 18, so we've looked after all ages, often three children at a time.

"To begin with, we looked after a number of children in the family at different times and for different reasons, and thought we might as well do it properly and signed up with the council as foster carers. It's just carried on from there."

From left, Wendy Queralt, fostering team manager; Rod and Rosalie James and Steve Harrod, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children and family services

Mr James, a retired gardener, added: "Children are often lacking confidence when they first come to you, so it's really rewarding when they become more comfortable and you find out that they're really smart and have a lot more about them than you could have imagined."

Steve Harrod, Oxfordshire County Council's cabinet member for children and family services, said: "Rosalie and Rod are an absolute credit to this county and theirs is a truly magnificent achievement.

"There can't be many people in Oxfordshire or anywhere else who know more about looking after children, or meeting the needs of young people in care who have often lived through traumatic experiences."

Fostering service manager Teresa Rogers said: "Rosalie and Rod are so well-known and well-liked by everyone who has had the pleasure to work with them over the years, they have almost become celebrities within the service. When they eventually decide to call it a day – I hope not just yet – it will leave a big hole."

No monkey business here

STUDENTS from Oxford who have developed and programmed new humanlike robots with monkey faces have been chosen to exhibit their work in a major showcase.

Two new 3D-printed humanoid robots were developed by third-year Oxford Brookes university students as part of a robotics systems course.

To acknowledge their hard work in the innovative project, the University Alliance, which promotes excellent teaching and learning, selected the robots to be a part of a showcase in London.

Tjeerd Olde Scheper, robotics subject coordinator at Oxford Brookes University, said: "The technology we have at Oxford Brookes is giving our students real, hands-on opportunities to design, create and program a robot and that really puts us at the forefront in terms of robotics. The skill of our technicians has also been instrumental in the provision of our robotics programme."

Royal seal of approval for student life centre

OXFORD University received a royal visit to celebrate the opening of a new student life centre.

Camilla, The Duchess of Cornwall arrived at Worcester College to open the Sultan Nazrin Shah centre on Walton Street on Wednesday last week.

Her Royal Highness joined Sultan Nazrin Shah of Perak, Malaysia, who came to the college in the 1970s to read PPE.

The sultan sponsored the building of a new centre, which will house an auditorium for year-round use, a foyer and open terrace, two seminar rooms, and a multi-purpose studio.

Camilla was also joined by her son, Tom Parker Bowles, an alumnus of the college.

Camilla, The Duchess of Cornwall enjoyed a tour round the centre when she officially opened it last week, accompanied by Dr Scott Scullion, senior tutor Worcester College; HRH Sultan Nazrin Shah, ruler of Perak, Malaysia, the benefactor and Sir Jonathan Bate, Provost Worcester College

Staff shortages and an increase in violence at HMP Bullingdon

By Samantha McGregor

A HOSTAGE incident and 65-unfilled job vacancies at an Oxfordshire prison were highlighted in an annual report.

The Independent Monitoring Board report for Bullingdon Prison, near Bicester, for the year August 2016 to June 2017, raised a string of concerns about the jail.

Published this month, the report said the 1,100 inmate prison operated with "tight budgetary constraints and with a substantial and chronic shortage of staff".

Concerns were raised about the level of violence and the lack of budget or resources for maintenance at the jail.

The report said during the past year two members of staff had been taken hostage in one of the wing interview rooms which had no alarm bells – in other prisons these rooms had alarms, according to the report.

The report said: "The incident was quickly and safely resolved through the negotiating skills of trained staff and is one of many examples in which the professionalism of staff has diffused or averted a threatening and dangerous situation."

It further said the level of violence had increased and one reason was an increase in 'gang activity' and the 'emergence of organised crime groups'.

Concerns have been raised in the report about violence, budget and resource issues at Bullingdon Prison

Staff shortages made it difficult to maintain officer/inmate ratios and the impact was detrimental to prisoners, the report revealed.

It said: "This makes it difficult for officers to develop meaningful relationships with prisoners with the consequence that it is more difficult for officers to anticipate or defuse potentially violent incidents before they arise, to be aware when vulnerable prisoners may be under increased pressure and consequent risk of self-harm or suicide, or to take a purposeful and active role in rehabilitation and planning for resettlement.

Despite the staff shortage and restricted regime, inspectors found most inmates were treated fairly. Concerns were raised that some new arrivals were treated unfairly because of lack of space for the number of vulnerable prisoners being held at the jail.

Inspectors found interpreting services were inadequate as was the provision for inmates needing social care.

Improvements were also noted by the appointment of a violence reduction analysist and prisoner representatives, a ceremony to celebrate inmates' educational achievements and improved access to canteen facilities for new inmates.

Staff were praised in the report and two officers from Bullingdon were finalists in the Prison Officer of the Year awards for 2017.

A Prison Service spokesperson said steps had been taken at the jail to address concerns raised by the Independent Monitoring Board.

He said: "Transforming prisons into places of safety and reform is our top priority and we are tackling the challenges we face head-on."

He said it had begun work to recruit more staff and across prisons the department was investing £1.3billion to modernise jails.

Too few black students admitted to Oxford uni

By George Welch

NEARLY a third of Oxford colleges failed to admit a single black British A-Level student in 2015.

New figures revealed 10 out of 32 colleges did not award a place to such a student while Oriel College has only offered one such place in six years.

Former Labour education minister David Lammy, who obtained the data last week, said the figures showed many colleges at both Oxbridge universities failed to reflect the UK's population.

"This is social apartheid, and it is utterly unrepresentative of life in modern Britain," he told the Guardian in an interview published last week.

Only three Oxford colleges and six Cambridge colleges made at least one offer of an undergraduate place to a black British A-Level student in each of the six years between 2010 and 2015.

"Difficult questions have to be asked including whether there is systematic bias inherent in the Oxbridge admissions process that is working against talented young people from ethnic minority backgrounds," Tottenham MP Mr Lammy added.

While the data represents an improvement from 2009 – when 21 Oxbridge colleges offered no places to black students, compared with 16 in 2015 – the figures suggest elite colleges still struggle to recruit black British pupils, especially from state schools.

The plaque unveiled to Christian Cole on University College where he was a student

An Oxford spokesman said: "Rectifying this is going to be a long journey that requires huge, joined-up effort across society - including from leading universities like Oxford - to address serious inequalities."

Oxford University honoured its first black graduate with a plaque on Saturday to show 'commitment to recognising and supporting the brightest students regardless of background'.

Christian Cole graduated from University College in 1876 with a degree in classics, before becoming the first black African to practice law in English courts in 1883.

The college unveiled the plaque in Logic Lane.

Dr Rebecca Surender, pro vice-chancellor and advocate for equality and diversity at Oxford, said: "The plaque is a reminder of how far we have progressed since Cole graduated from Oxford, and of many more diverse stories of achievement and success."

Lucky escape after ambulance crash

THESE were the crushed remains of a BMW after it collided with an ambulance.

The crash caused long delays on the A40 on Tuesday last week.

The road was shut in both directions for around two hours from 3pm after the vehicles collided between the Wolvercote Roundabout and the B4449 in Eynsham.

The ambulance was not on frontline duty at the time of the accident.

Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service said the occupants were "very lucky to only suffer minor cuts and bruises".

Man exposed himself to woman in alley

POLICE are on the hunt for this man after he exposed himself to a woman in Kidlington.

The woman in her twenties was walking along an alleyway between Oxford Road and Crown Road when the man approached her from behind and grabbed her arm.

As she turned around he then exposed himself before fleeing.

The incident happened at about 4.50pm on October 6.

PC Sharon Harris, from Bicester Investigation Hub, said: "Understandably, this has been a very distressing incident for the victim, and she is being supported by the investigation team at this time."

The Go Green team celebrate their success at their eighth birthday party

Many happy return journeys

GO Green Taxis celebrated its eighth birthday how every birthday should be celebrated – with a massive cake.

The Didcot-based taxi firm has grown from one car and two drivers in 2009 to 150 drivers and more than 75 vehicles today.

The last 12 months has brought significant growth for Go Green as the environmentally conscious business opened offices in Newbury and Oxford. It also has bases in Wallingford, Wantage and Abingdon.

Director and co-founder Mark John said: "Eight years into our business and we are continuing to achieve our dreams from 2009 when we hoped to provide a first class, environmentally friendly taxi service to the whole of Oxfordshire and beyond. Since then we have safely transported hundreds of thousands of customers and have built a brand that we are very proud of."

The Go Green fleet includes the hybrid Toyota Prius, eight-seater Ford Tourneo, Mercedes E-Class, fully electric Nissan Leaf and Peugeot Premier, the latest addition for disabled customers.

Welcome to boisterous 11st baby rhino Alan

IT'S been a breeding success for zookeepers in Burford as they welcomed Alan, a curious baby rhino.

Staff at Cotswold Wildlife Park welcomed the newest addition to the 'crash', the collective noun for a group of rhinos, last month.

The white rhino calf, born to parents Ruby and Monty, is the fourth birth at the park since 2013 - which came after almost 40 years of hoping the park's rhinos would breed.

Managing director at the park, Reggie Heyworth, said: "Everyone is overjoyed about the birth of another rhino calf to Ruby, who is being such a good mother, for the second time.

"The calf looks like a strong lad already, and the rest of the rhino 'crash' seem to be taking his arrival in their stride. With rhinos facing such poaching pressures in the wild, every birth in captivity is a sign of hope for this wonderful species."

Named in honour of the park's electrician who retires this year after 23 years of service, Alan, weighing 11 stone a week after his birth, was described as a 'high-spirited and boisterous youngster'.

Births in captivity are extremely rare, with only 13 white rhinos born in European zoos in the last 12 months.

Eco farm's £100k plan to create wildlife zone

By Samantha McGregor

A POPULAR eco farm has launched a £100,000 expansion plan which will create a new wildlife zone to protect British and European creatures.

The Green Dragon Rare Breeds Farm and Eco Park at Hogshaw, is just across the Buckinghamshire border, near Bicester.

It wants to create a haven for wildlife including birds of prey, red foxes, red squirrels and species of deer and reindeer to support the protection and conservation of these animals.

The move is part of the centre's education arm and it plans to teach visitors about these animals' natural habitats and behaviours, and also how their native environments can be protected.

Green Dragon, which opened in 2014, says it will set aside three acres for extra-large enclosures for the animals.

Owner Ray Marzec said: "We want to diversify our farm, enabling more people to learn about and enjoy the natural environment and the animals that live in it.

"The new reserve will follow our farm's ethos of conservation and sustainability and we will continue to promote healthier lifestyles through recreation, education and social play."

Children meet a barn owl at the eco farm

He said Green Dragon had a target to reach 250,000 children by 2023 and give them first-hand experiences of the great outdoors and a main part of that would be via its schools' programme.

About 50 per cent of the project will be funded by the business and a further 50 per cent via a crowdfunding campaign and other appeals with enticements including one-on-one animal interactions, membership vouchers and their names included on walkways and plaques.

General manager Jay Wood said: "We are fortunate to have a fantastic visitor base that has helped make The Green Dragon what it is today, supporting our mission to conserve rare breeds, promote well-being and sustainable living and inspire people to enjoy the great outdoors and countryside.

"The natural next step is to celebrate some of our native British wildlife.

"Our naturalistic enclosures will enable visitors to view these wonderful animals, learn about their habitats and take home a positive message about what we can all do for conservation."

The site currently has a rare-breed farm including cattle, sheep, goats and pigs, a pets' corner, two cafes, indoor and outdoor play facilities and a meadow with nature trails and bird watching.

Building is due to start March, with the wildlife enclosures opening in July.

Real-life stories of First World War

WITH Remembrance Day on the horizon, a different view of the First World War will be presented in a concert.

Musician Louise Jordan presents her collection of original songs in No Petticoats Here telling the stories of real-life inspirational women.

The show will portray the varied lives of women in the Great War through song inspired by Dorothy Lawrence.

She dressed as a soldier to visit the front and pursue her ambitions of being a journalist and then became fascinated by the stories of the women there – ambulance drivers, scientists and spies.

Louise has spent 12 months carrying out research for the show which has taken her to the battlefields of France and Belgium as well as museums.

She said: "The First World War too often remembers women as the mourners of the fallen, as frugal housewives 'making do' or angelic nurses caring patiently for the men who returned from the Front Line.

"Through No Petticoats Here I remember some of the many women whose stories do not fit conveniently into boxes and whose experiences are both astonishing and relatable one hundred years on."

No Petticoats Here is at Didcot's Cornerstone Arts Centre on Wednesday, November 1.

Pupils join poverty campaign

Girls contributed 1,000 items to food bank as play highlights issue

By Eva Astreinidou

PEOPLE across Oxfordshire joined a campaign to highlight poverty and hunger around the world.

Didcot Girls' School contributed goods to a food bank as a theatre group performed to mark world food day last week.

Young pupils filled up boxes for their 'food for a thousand' challenge.

A spokesperson from the school said: "Rather than just raising awareness of the issue we were keen to undertake some action.

"As part of this we challenged the DGS community to bring in 1,000 items over a two-day period that we would then donate to the Didcot food bank."

Several events took place throughout the county to mark the day on Monday last week, including a production of 'Food Bank As It Is' by a theatre group working to highlight the poverty crisis.

A spokesperson for the group said: "The play was performed at a time when action on the worsening UK poverty crisis is more urgent than ever. The right to food, after all, is a fundamental human right."

The play, performed at Oxfam House, Oxford, told a number of real life stories about the growing number of people in the UK who are reliant on food banks and the way low pay, benefit sanctions and delays have a catastrophic effect on individual lives.

The script was written by food bank manager Tara Osman and has been produced by a group of volunteer actors and friends who have produced sell-out performances across the country.

Landlord fined £6,000 for faulty alarm

A ROGUE landlord has been convicted for the second time and ordered to pay more than £6,000 after a fire in a house which had a faulty detection system.

Zahid Ali Rana, 58, of Boundary Brook Road, Oxford, pleaded guilty to operating an unlicensed property under the House in Multiple Occupation legislation.

Rana was prosecuted after environmental health staff from Oxford City Council visited the property in March after the fire.

He was convicted for the second time in 12 months and ordered to pay a total of £6,146 in fines and costs when he appeared at Oxford Magistrates' Court on October 16.

As three lodgers were living in the property with him, the house should have been licensed as an HMO. The central heating did not work and there was rubbish in the garden.

Rana had previously been convicted in October last year after he was found to be managing an unlicensed HMO in Freelands Road that was also found to be unsafe.

Councillor Alex Hollingsworth, city council board member for planning and regulatory services, said: "Going forward, the council will be regularly using financial penalties to deal with unlicensed HMOs and to secure compliance with HMO licence conditions where landlords have failed to improve their properties."

If I am Purr Minister, I will...

NORTH OXFORDSHIRE MP Victoria Prentis' pet is battling it out to become Westminster's top cat and be crowned Purr Minister 2017.

Her cat, Midnight, has been shortlisted in Battersea's Purr Minister 2017 and voting has now opened.

Over the last few weeks, MPs from across the country have been submitting their four-legged candidates alongside a Manifursto explaining why their cat should become the new face, and whiskers, of politics.

Six moggies are now hoping for votes.

Among the policies on Midnight's manifursto are networking parties for cats in Downing Street and compulsory cat-related Prime Minister's Question every Wednesday.

Rachel Saunders, organiser Battersea's cattery manager, said: "This really is an election like no other and every vote counts. We hope MPs are feline lucky their candidate will be the chosen winner as they're all worthy contenders of the crown."

Last year's Purr Minister crown was awarded to feline duo Pixie and Smudge, owned by Steve Reed, MP for Croydon North.

People have until 9am on November 6 to cast their ballot and results will be announced the following day. For more information or to vote go to battersea.org.uk/purr-minister.

Spring cleaning village for autumn

Cllr Liam Walker, centre, was joined by residents to help tidy up the streets

NORTH Leigh residents picked up their spades and brooms for a special autumn tidy up of the village's streets.

The corner of Park Road and Common Road has a new look after locals gave it a much-needed clear up earlier this month.

The footpath towards the school was overgrown with weeds and nettles overhanging the path, meaning children were getting stung as they walked to and from school.

County councillor Liam Walker, who organised the clean up, said: "Over the past few weeks I received quite a few emails about this issue so I thought what better way to sort it out than by bringing the community together to tidy it up.

"I'm passionate about doing projects like this in our area and would love for people to join us or suggest other areas.

"There were people who helped out who lived in the village but didn't know each other. We also had lots of people passing tell us how much better it looked and what a great job we were doing."

The clean-up was also supported by parish councillor David Fettes and Oxfordshire County Council leader Ian Hudspeth.

Festival heralds beers and ciders

DRINKERS will raise their glasses to a growing number of micro-breweries at the Oxford Beer and Cider Festival from today until Saturday.

Many of Oxfordshire's 20-plus breweries will be represented, ranging from big names such as Wychwood and Hook Norton to small businesses including Turpin, Lovebeer, Little Ox and Oxbrew that have sprung up around the county in the last few years.

According to festival organiser CAMRA, there are now more than 1,700 breweries around the UK including nearly 200 new names that have opened in the last two years.

This year's festival at Oxford Town Hall will feature 130 real ales and 50 ciders or perries from near and far, with a further 40 ales held in reserve until Saturday to encourage visitors to come again.

Oxford CAMRA spokesman Dave Richardson said: "British people really have gained a taste for locally produced beer, and are increasingly turning away from the mass produced keg beers and lagers.

"The Oxford Beer and Cider Festival is the perfect opportunity to let your taste buds free on a whole range of traditional beer styles from dark and golden beers to traditional stouts and porters, which are seeing a revival."

Entry costs £10 including £6 worth of vouchers and non-returnable glass. For more information, contact Dave Richardson on 07979 654057; davidrichardson2017@gmail.com

Parents go on hunger strike to force action for their son's release

By George Welch

PARENTS of an Oxford man reportedly imprisoned by Syrian militia have gone on hunger strike and launched a petition to encourage the government to push for his release.

Sally Lane and John Letts' son Jack Letts was dubbed 'Jihadi Jack' after converting to Islam and travelling to the so-called Islamic State then-stronghold of Raqqa in 2014.

The couple started their week-long fast on the steps of St Paul's Cathedral on Thursday afternoon last week in protest against the government's 'inaction' to get their son back.

They will be at various sites around London over the week.

For years the pair have called for the safe return of Jack, who escaped Raqqa earlier this year, to the family home in Chilswell Road, Grandpont, south Oxford.

Despite the Foreign Office saying it doesn't have the resources to search for and help Jack, Ms Lane and Mr Letts' petition, launched on Tuesday last week, has already gathered more than 1,700 signatures.

Picture: Sally Lane and John Letts / thepetitionsite.com

The aim is to collect 100,000 so it will be considered for debate in Parliament.

On the petition page, the couple wrote: "Our son 'disappeared' in a Guantanamo-style 'black site' in Rojava (Kurdish-controlled territory), northern Syria, over five months [ago] and has had no contact with the outside world since July 8.

"He is being detained by Kurdish authorities who intercepted him when he was fleeing IS-controlled territory."

The couple, who are facing trial for funding terrorism, which they deny, said: "Jack was told in May 2017 that the Kurdish authorities wanted to hand him over to the British.

"However, the British government has told us that they cannot help secure Jack's release as they do not have any consular access in Rojava.

"Jack has never been involved in violence and the British police have told us there is no evidence he has done anything wrong.

"Please show them that British people care about justice and human rights…we have had no confirmation that he is still alive."

One supporter wrote on the petition: "This is morally incorrect, if he has been found not to be a terrorist, and is a British citizen, he should have the right to be allowed back to the UK."

The petition can be viewed and signed at tinyurl.com/yasgh38t

Working hard for better healthcare

By George Welch

THE new clinical chair of the body which manages heathcare in the county has pledged to tackle challenging circumstances head on to provide sustainable services.

Witney GP Kiren Collison has been elected to the post at the Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group after a vote involving all 70 of the county's GP practices.

She will take on her new role in December when Joe McManners, who has held the position since February 2014, steps down.

Dr Collison has been involved at the OCCG for four years and is currently the GP lead for diagnostics and maternity services across the county.

But she won't have it easy as she takes on the mantle of overseeing a major overhaul of the county's health services.

Health bosses warned last year that services in the county face a funding black hole of £180million by 2020.

Dr Collison said: "We continue to face increased demand, financial pressures, workforce shortages and inequalities.

Dr Kiren Collison takes over her new role in December

"In light of the difficult circumstances we find ourselves in, I will work very hard with all member GPs, all providers, social care and patients to bring about sustainable services across all healthcare settings. I will endeavour to build on what he has achieved over the last four years."

Roger Dickinson, lay member and vice chair of the OCCG board, said Dr McManners had "committed considerable time and energy to improving healthcare for Oxfordshire's population".

Dazzling Diamond's 10 years

DIAMOND Light Source is celebrating 10 years since the Queen and Prince Philip officially opened the science facility.

As part of its anniversary celebrations, Diamond has invited members of the public to follow in royal footsteps by visiting one of its open days to find out more about the exciting past decade of research and innovation.

The synchrotron science facility at Harwell works like a giant microscope, harnessing the power of electrons to produce bright light scientists can use to study anything from fossils to jet engines to viruses and vaccines.

Behind-the-scenes tours offer visitors the chance to see inside the particle accelerator and experimental laboratories as well as meet some of the scientists who use Diamond.

Diamond said it has 'exceeded expectations' over the last 10 years – academic and industrial user visits now exceed 9,000 a year and 60,000 visitors including undergraduates and graduates, secondary school students and members of the public visit the facility every year.

Professor Andrew Harrison, current CEO at Diamond, said: "I am humbled and proud to be at the head of such a great project and of the dedication of our current and former staff, contractors and user community from academia and industry."

Amputee lifeguard's dream a reality after learning to swim

A MAN who has had to learn how to swim with just one leg has qualified to become a pool lifeguard.

The 26-year-old had his leg partially amputated when he was 20 months old following a birth defect in his left foot.

After working for the GLL leisure centre for the last three years, he wanted to advance his career despite being held back by poor swimming skills.

He said: "As a duty manager at a dry side leisure centre, I've found it so difficult to move up the ladder without holding an NPLQ (National Pool Lifeguard Qualification) – it's been a massive barrier for me."

After failing the qualification test the first time around, he has qualified with the Royal Life Saving Society UK, after intense swimming training and a re-assessment.

He added: "Learning to swim with just the one leg is tough but learning to become a strong swimmer was even more difficult. I had plenty of injuries and became quite stressed at times, but with a condition like mine all you can do is forget about it and not let it affect you."

2,500 vehicles without insurance

By Adam Flinn

MORE than 2,500 vehicles across Thames Valley and Hampshire have been found to have no insurance during a six-month operation by police.

Operation Tutelage ran between March 1 and August 31, with the two police forces writing to the owners of those vehicles asking them to make sure their policy was up to date.

Results published last week show that 80 per cent of those drivers have now properly insured their cars.

A total of 113 vehicles were seized where the owner failed to comply, while the remaining ones are waiting to be rechecked or set for more enforcement.

Inspector Simon Hills from the Joint Roads Policing Unit said: "The 80 per cent compliance rate is very pleasing.

"We have taken a neighbourhood approach to engaging with the motoring community and this lighter touch engagement has led to some very positive feedback.

"This included a lady who insured her daughter's car by mistake instead of her own, and a gentleman who insured his wife's car twice but forgot to insure his own.

"We also had some lovely letters from people who had genuinely just forgotten to renew their policies and were so grateful that we had warned them but not prosecuted them."

The positive outcome of the operation has led to other forces across the country rolling it out themselves.

Both police forces collaborated with the Motor Insurers' Bureau (MIB) to develop the operation and test its effectiveness.

Neil Drane, from the MIB, said: "We will continue to support this initiative in 2018 and will encourage other forces in the UK to adopt it.

"We can see that the letters being sent to vehicle owners from Hampshire and the Thames Valley are very effective.

"It is also an efficient use of manpower enabling both forces to maximise their resources to the benefit of their communities."

Welcome back!

Cornbury Festival to carry on in 2018

Hugh Phillimore and daughter Rose

CORNBURY Festival organiser Hugh Phillimore has bowed to pressure and will return with 'posh stock' next year.

This summer record crowds bid a final farewell to Cornbury Festival, which had run for 14 years.

Festival director Mr Phillimore was adamant it was the last and described it as a "truly fantastic and memorable weekend".

But over the past few months he's had a change of heart, prompted by a "a wave of support" from media in Oxfordshire and festival fans.

He said: "So many people have sent messages since July - our audience love the event and want it to keep going.

"Literally hundreds of our supporters, together with bands, agents, managers, sponsors and media partners telling me I shouldn't let such a jewel in the festival calendar end.

"The festival market has become a tough playing field over the last few years and very saturated, which led partly to my decision to leave while we were on a high, however the response has been so overwhelming with support for Cornbury to remain, that it has caused a rethink on my part and I can confirm that we have decided to listen to public opinion and return next year as strong as ever in July 2018.

"If people still want us here, in a way it would be foolish to stop now and 15 years does give us another great reason to celebrate.

"I've been humbled by the depth of feeling for this event and I now feel that I should keep Cornbury going as a worthwhile community event because it contributes to the local economy and seems to spread quite a lot of joy."

Over the years local charities and schools have benefited from fundraising at the festival, last year Banbury's Dogs For Good were one of the benefactors.

Director Lucy Vincent said: "We've had an amazing response from the many festival - goers at Cornbury and are very excited that we can do it all again 2018."

This summer the 20,000-strong crowd enjoyed acts including Bryan Adams, Jools Holland and the Kaiser Chiefs.

The 15th Cornbury Festival will be staged at Great Tew Park from July 13 to 15.

Where better to start the spooky season than at Oxford Castle Quarter - the city's most historic site.

To celebrate Halloween, Oxford Castle Quarter is running a Spooky Scavenger Hunt until October 31.

You may find a witch's face outside the entrance to the historic mound, a pumpkin near one of the restaurants dotted around the unique site, or even a vampire face hidden near the entrance to Oxford Castle Unlocked.

Pick up a Spooky Scavenger Hunt form from either Oxford Castle Quarter's Castleyard Café or Pizza Express, and embark on a tour of the grounds, ticking off the ghostly characters as you spot them.

Once you've found all 10, drop your completed forms back into the Castleyard Café or Pizza Express, and indulge in one of the exclusive offers available. You'll also be in with a chance of winning a family day out at Oxford Castle Quarter.

Oxford Castle Quarter is also home to Prezzo, which has a spooktacular half term offer, where 'children eat for a £1' with every full paying adult.

With something for everyone at Oxford Castle Quarter, late night revellers are invited to dress up in their very best Halloween regalia and head to Slug & Lettuce for Haunted House party nights, including 2-for-1 cocktails between Friday and Sunday.

Hearing aids can do more than improve your hearing.

Following a survey carried out in 2015 by Anovum (a market research company) on 1325 hearing impaired people (605 hearing aid wearers and 720 not wearing hearing aids). The survey reports that hearing aids not only improve capabilities of hearing well but also improved the general health of hearing aid wearers compared to hearing impaired people who do not wear a hearing aid. Hearing aid users are less likely to think they have the symptoms of dementia, feel less physically and mentally exhausted, sleep better and are less likely to suffer from depression.

The survey confirms what some Audiologists have suspected for some time, that hearing aids are not only good for correcting hearing loss but in fact contribute to better and more active lives, better quality of life, and better overall health.

For the hearing impaired workers who wear a hearing aid it is reported that their hearing aids are useful for their job and that the hearing aids also increase the chance of them getting promoted, being in the right job and getting more salary compared to those hearing impaired people who have not obtained hearing aids.

The full report can be found at EuroTrak UK 2015 – ehima

A new hearing system is just the beginning and a hearing aid system is only as good as the audiologist prescribing and programming it.

At Keith Donaghy Hearingcare we offer the best bespoke hearing aid systems virtually unnoticeable fitting comfortably into your ear.

Keith will help you every step of the way whilst you adjust to your new hearing ability, for some this takes months for others a matter of a few weeks but Keith is always on hand to answer questions or give advice on getting the best from your system. The last thing he wants (as is often the case when insufficient aftercare is available) is for your hearing aids to end up in the back of a drawer somewhere, unused because you felt that nothing else could be done to rectify any programming or rehabilitation problems.

Keith wants to know if you have any concerns about your hearing aids, no matter how big or small, so that you and he can work together to achieve the best results.

Reasons to be cheerful with optimistic musical

By Samantha McGregor

A GRAMMY award-winning musical about optimism will be brought to life on the Oxford stage next month.

Oxford University student company Barricade Arts will perform satire Candide at Oxford Playhouse, from Wednesday, November 8 to Saturday, November 11.

In the fairy-tale town of Thunder-ten-Tronck, Candide is taught that all is for the best by his mentor Professor Pangloss.

But after being cast out into the harsh realities of the world, the hero is exposed to a comic array of misfortune, calling into question his optimistic philosophy.

In these times of political upheaval, where everything seems to be on the verge of catastrophe, Candide is here to teach us that it is alright to laugh at our troubles.

Based on Voltaire's famous work, this Grammy award-winning musical from Leonard Bernstein is a fitting celebration in the lead up to the 100th anniversary of Bernstein's birth.

Candide is a popular work which appeals to a wide-ranging audience from musical theatre and opera fans, to academics and armchair philosophers.

The score, featuring showpieces such as Glitter and be Gay, will be performed by a 14-piece band and a cast of more than 20.

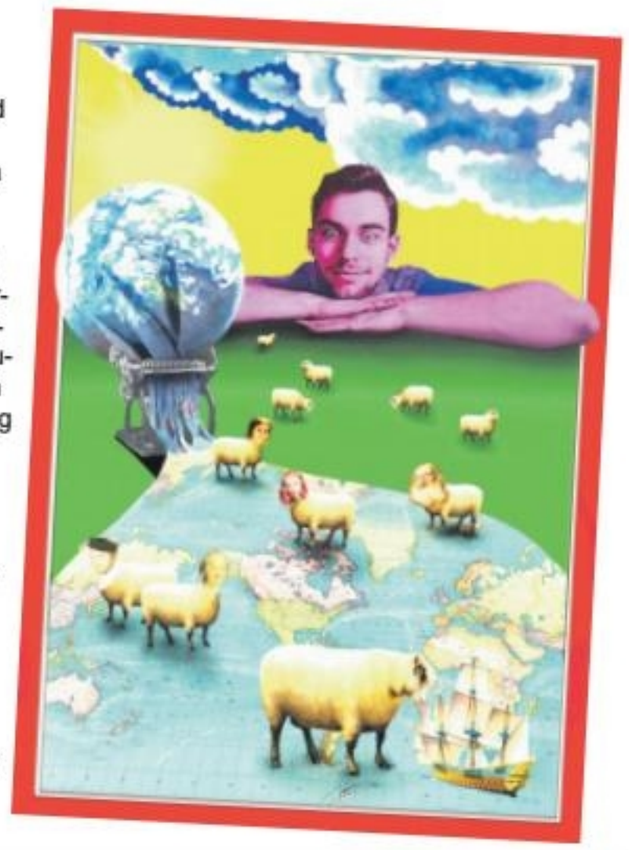
Inspired by Monty Python, this production emphasises the darker and more absurd aspects of Voltaire's story, contrasting with a humorous tone.

Baricade Arts have modernised the show's style, setting and performance using an innovative modular set manipulated by the chorus with bold physical storytelling techniques.

Although the members of Baricade Arts are current university students, it is up-and-coming in the professional world.

In January it will be working with the British Council to take a production of George Orwell's Animal Farm to Madrid.

Tickets for Candide at Oxford Playhouse start at £10 and are available from the box office on 01865 305305 or go to oxfordplayhouse.com



Sunrises on winter tour

SINGER songwriter Emily Barker has announced a winter tour with her new album Sweet Kind of Blue.

As part of her nationwide tour she will play Oxford's Bullingdon, on Tuesday, November 7.

Her album Sweet Kind of Blue was released in May and it marked a new sound as she returned to the soul and blues influences that first inspired her to become a singer/songwriter.

Her new single, Sunrise, the second to be released from the album, was written during a road-trip touring Sweden and was influenced by natural surroundings of lakes, beaches and the long-lasting sunlight of peak Swedish summer.

She said: "It's a song about escaping and it seemed very fitting to record it in the USA with the national theme of the road-trip being such a feature in literature, music and popular culture throughout American history".

Emily has previously written and performed theme songs for BAFTA and Ivor Novello winning television drama Wallander and The Shadow Line, as well as the entire musical score for the 2015 road movie, Hector. She also performed with Frank Turner at the London 2012 Olympics Opening Ceremony.

Out & About

The big question – to be true or to be popular...?

WITH their debut album out this month, fans will get a chance to hear the music live when Catholic Action play Oxford.

They take to the stage at The Cellar on Wednesday, November 1, to promote album In Memory Of, as part of a UK tour.

Describing themselves as an "experimental" group, Catholic Action are taking their album on tour this November alongside Nottingham band Kagoule.

Formed from the Glasgow DIY scene in 2014, the band was initially frontman Chris McCrory's solo project.

Having played drums in indie Scottish band Casual Sex and recorded a bunch of records in his home studio, Catholic Action began as a studio project – a way for McCrory to note down his personal experiences through music.

As things picked up, he brought in members Ryan Clark, Jamie Dubber and Andrew Macpherson, completing the band.

In Memory Of gives the impression of a band who comfortably straddle two opposing worlds, the experimental and the pop.

But the recording process nearly lead to the band's early demise as they struggled with the big question, be popular and sell lots of records, or be true to yourself and make no impact at all.

Their co-producer Margo Broom put them on the right track. Chris said: "I was already pretty unhappy and running from other things when doing that session and it really set me off. But to an extent, it made me figure out Catholic Action.

"She broke us down into our constituent parts and challenged us to come together in a way that was cohesive.

"It's just a really hard thing to do when you're already basically in a crisis anyway. I thought we would irrevocably fall out, but we didn't."

He said the album's name and its floral candlelit artwork is a "death shrine" to the band, ultimately "it's the closing of a chapter and the birthing of another".

The band have received a lot of support from BBC Radio 1 with their first two singles, as well as spots at BBC Radio 1's Big Weekend and SXSW with BBC Introducing.

"I honestly believe that Colourfence is the best general purpose fencing product on the market today!"

Get ready for Autumn

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all. Anna Ryder Richardson - Designer and Television Presenter - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system.

It's been ten years since I regularly graced TV screens helping transform people's living spaces with MDF and stripped floorboards. Recently it's been more "celebrity muck out" than "celebrity make-over" as I took up the challenge of owning my own Wildlife Zoo in Tenby. In this time I've learnt quiet a lot about fences and having researched the various options for my own benefit I thought I would share my knowledge with a wider audience.

The latest design processes mean there is now a tremendous array of fencing products for you to choose from, constructed from a variety of materials. Each has its own attributes, and ultimately it can often come down to a matter of personal preference. For me, there was one unique system that stood out as providing the best balance between price and functionality which eradicates fencing problems for good. Or for at least 25 years. Colourfence. For quality, value, longevity, aesthetic design, this fencing system ticks all the boxes. Fencing made for the 21st century that will transform the look of your garden which is supplied and fitted by a company whose customer service is as good as the product.

In my view, Colourfence is the 'Rolls Royce' of fencing – just without the exclusive price tag. What's more, it's guaranteed to stay in place in up to 130mph winds and is virtually maintenance free.

To find out how the experts from Colourfence might help you, I suggest you call 01865 582 171 and speak to their team.

Colourfence: The ultimate garden fence?

For many Colourfence is perhaps the ultimate choice. For the last 15 years it's been widely used across the UK and has steadily gained a reputation for its quality. By using the highest specification Colorbond steel in the fence structure itself, complemented by the highest level of customer service from accredited Franchisees, Colourfence is now regarded by many as the premier fencing solution in the market. Immune to the rot and resistant to the weather that so quickly effects wooden fences, Colourfence has none of the drawbacks of wood - plenty of additional benefits and what's more it's better value!

Home Owners aged 50+
Protect your home from future care home fees

"We've worked hard and saved all our lives. Why should the Local Authority get it all?"

Does this sound familiar?

"We have made our Wills, leaving everything to each other and then to the children."

These are known as Mirror Wills. Sounds reassuring enough, doesn't it? But your children could in fact end up with very little or even nothing at all.

If your surviving spouse has to go into care, they will have to use all their assets to pay for their care until they get down to their last £14,250. It is therefore not a good idea to leave your half share of the home to your surviving partner but instead leave them the use of your share. This can be achieved by making new Property Trust Wills. These legitimate steps must be taken while you are both alive and in reasonable good mental health. It is therefore important for couples to act now!

Most of our clients come to us having already made standard Mirror Wills or have been meaning to make a Will but simply haven't got around to it. With Property Trust Wills, yourself and your spouse/partner each leave your half share of the home to the children in Trust but state that they are not to receive it during the lifetime of the surviving spouse/partner. This half would then NOT be included in any future means test calculations for care fees. The surviving spouse is free to sell their share of the home, raise cash or move house. Your children are powerless to intervene but simply have to wait for their inheritance, as they would have done previously.

Who Cares?

Giving back what others have given you and your family!

It's on the news, it's in the papers, but have you ever really stopped to think about care work and the benefits it brings to both the elderly or vulnerable people receiving that extra helping hand and to the people who offer that support to those who need it? Are you big-hearted enough to bring sunshine to others, to offer a smile and a story and enjoy their warmth and appreciation in return?

'I used to work in a kennels and run my own business dog-grooming but dogs don't talk and people are more interesting!' says Jackie.

'Then for a long time I worked for a company who offered people short term loans. I met all sorts of people collecting their payments when they were due which I liked. I was self-employed though so I didn't get paid holidays or anything, which I do now, and then the pressure from the company began to increase – they wanted me to encourage people to take on extra loans they couldn't afford and I'm not that sort of person. I wanted to help people not get them into difficulty and so I decided it was time for a complete change.'

'My mum had dementia and had carers come in to look after her and I loved how they looked after her at home, so she could carry on living with my Dad who she'd been married to for ever. Being patient, coaxing and caring, they helped support her without taking away any of her dignity. Dad enjoyed their visits too as he liked chatting to them. They relieved him of a real burden and my sisters and I felt much more relaxed knowing they were looking after my mum well and so they made a difference to our whole family.'

'It looked so rewarding being able to help people, and to help them in the place that they really wanted to be and so I trained to become a care worker. It's been a real eye-opener. It can be challenging at times and the traffic can be a nuisance at rush hour but I like to be busy and I enjoy listening to the radio in the car in between visits - the round I do is all pretty local. I can really help and see the difference I make to people and the changes in them because of it and that's brilliant. I always joke with them and we make each other laugh.'

'Now it's a pleasure to be giving back to other people what those carers gave to my Mum. It something we'll always appreciate and we'll never forget. It's totally different to what I've done before and I'm definitely happier!'

This is the story of one of our team members and we'd love you to be part of our story too.

HALLOWEEN FEATURE

HALLOWEEN FEATURE

IF you're looking to keep your little witches and wizards entertained over the half-term holidays then head to Templars Square for some spooky fun.

The shopping centre in Cowley is celebrating Halloween in style this year with a whole host of spook-tacular events.

From today until Saturday between 11am and 3pm every day there will be a variety of freaky, fun and free activities for kids.

Little witches and wizards are invited to join pumpkin carving workshops and take part in safe trick-or-treating around the centre. On Friday and Saturday kids can have a magic makeover with face painting to help ward off the scary stilt walkers that will be walking around the centre on Saturday.

Owen Acland, centre manager at Templar Square Shopping Centre, comments: "We love Halloween at Templars Square and can't wait to see everyone's pumpkins and spooky face paint. Our series of spooktacular events are running for three days and so there will be plenty to keep the kids entertained in the half term."

The Templars Square Shopping Centre's Halloween event is free as part of the centre's Kids Club loyalty scheme which launched earlier this summer and aims to enhance the shopping experience for families. Advertorial

Dogs Needs a Holiday too

As we are a nation renowned for our love of animals, it is not surprising that many dog owners feel uncomfortable at the thought of going away and leaving their best friend behind, especially if kennels are not for them.

Wagging Tails provide a home from home dog boarding service where dogs stay with one of our carefully selected carers as a member of the family for their very own holiday. All of their carers are experienced dog owners and are at home during the day to give the dogs the warmth and comfort they would get at home, along with plenty of exercise and attention.

Due to the popularity of our service, they are always interested to hear from dog lovers wishing to join their team of carers.

If you have experience of owning a dog but now find yourself without any pets, then providing a loving home by becoming a Wagging Tails carer can be both a fun and rewarding time for you and the dogs in your care. Alternatively perhaps you own one dog who would enjoy the company of a holiday guest!

This role is ideal for someone who is already working from home, house wife/husband or early retired.

And the benefits:

Companionship

You will get all the benefits and company of a dog without the commitment of full time ownership.

Healthier Lifestyle

Having a dog to stay obviously means walking, but in addition to this studies have shown that owning a dog can also improve mood, decrease stress, lower blood pressure, ease chronic pain such as migraines and arthritis and lowers cholesterol.

Social

Giving a dog a holiday doesn't mean you only spend time with the dog; you will meet the owners of each dog who stays with you as well as other owners when out walking your guests – something that often leads to good friendship with fellow dog lovers!

In addition to the all the above benefits, their carers will also receive a fee for welcoming your holiday guests into your home. This can provide their carers with enough to pay for a nice holiday of their own and those little extra luxuries that we all deserve.

If you think you could welcome a dog into your family or would like further information about our services, please call Teresa on 07762 132329 or visit www.waggingtailsuk.co.uk or email ox@waggingtailsuk.co.uk

Give a dog a holiday!

"Speak French, Spanish or Italian as they are really spoken"

Now you can improve or maintain your French, Italian or Spanish with the bi-monthly audio magazines Bien-dire, Bien-dire Initial, Tutto Italiano and Punto y Coma.

Bien-dire, Bien-dire Initial, Tutto italiano and Punto y Coma are published six times a year from France, Spain and Italy and include a glossy magazine packed full of lively, topical and original articles and in-depth interviews in French, Spanish or Italian to give you the inside track on French, Spanish or Italian culture. Key words and phrases are glossed into English on the facing page. The articles, in turn, are narrated on the accompanying 60-minute audi CD to enable you to improve your listening comprehension and understand French, Spanish or Italian as it's really spoken. In addition, every feature is graded for difficulty so that you can assess your progress with each issue.

For French speakers, Bien-dire Initial will take you from a beginner to an intermediate level and is published on alternate months to Bien-dire so that they can be taken together to form a truly comprehensive French learning programme

If you now want to be able to speak like a native, a subscription to Bien-dire, Bien-dire Initial, Tutto Italiano or Punto y Coma will inspire, motivate and help you to achieve fluency.

Vauxhall Mokka X Active 1.4i Turbo (140PS) SS ecoTEC FWD

A cool way to get you out and about

By Tony Yates

THE Mokka X looks cool, and the name sounds cool – but can it hit the perfect spot when it comes to reaching out to buyers looking for something different? Well, let's find out.

Power & efficiency

The 1.4-litre Turbocharged petrol engine produces 140PS with a maximum torque figure of 200Nm, making it pretty good for nipping around town in or taking the family on a long motorway journey – where actually the Mokka X really does start to make sense as a vehicle for all the family. 0-62mph is dealt with in around 9.3 seconds - and if you add in the Start/Stop system it will return over 47mpg on the combined figure. Max speed also tops out at around 122mph.

On the road

The handling is good – but I feel it needs to be a bit more fun to drive. Maybe if I had gone for the diesel version it may have felt sportier - thus making it feel more urgent when it comes to how it pulls away. Saying that the steering is direct and the grip levels are good. There is even a 4X4 version of the Mokka X available for those of you who require that rugged off-road look. All in all, it's a decent ride. So whether you're doing motorway driving, or nipping around town – the Mokka X stays right on track.

Design & technology

The interior is fresh and all the buttons and dials are clear. The front seats also have plenty of adjustment to them and feel well made. Rear leg room is good and the boot space is fantastic. I like the wide boot opening as this will help facilitate getting a large item inside the boot a doddle. Boot size is also important if you have a large family – and the Mokka X has no less than 356 litres of boot space with the rear seats up (under luggage compartment cover) and with the rear seats folded (to the upper edge of the front seat back) coming in at 785 litres.

But, some of the plastics on the inside do need to look a little better – although, in the end, this is a car that can be used to haul you around with minimal fuss. Yes, the interior is not the best – but that's just my opinion. Although for a car pushing over £20k - I would have liked a little bit more.

Lots of extras but a little more on the interior comforts needed in the Vauxhall Mokka

Some of the standard equipment you get in the 'Active' includes; dual-zone electronic climate control, cruise control with speed limiter, multi-function trip computer, leather-covered steering wheel, steering column adjustable for reach and rake, steering wheel mounted audio controls, auto anti-dazzle rear-view mirror, front driver's armrest, 60/40 split flip and fold rear seat, smartphone projection, Apple CarPlay™ and Android Auto™, 7-inch colour touchscreen, AM/FM/digital radio, Bluetooth® audio streaming, Bluetooth® mobile phone portal and USB with iPod control.

Plus, switchable electronic stability programme, anti-lock braking system, traction control, hill start assist, tyre pressure monitoring system, six airbags, remote control alarm system, front/rear parking distance sensors, emergency tyre inflation kit in lieu of spare wheel and LED daytime running lights.

So what you lose out on in interior comforts, Vauxhall more than makes up for in the extra equipment department.

To sum up

For the Mokka X to really shine I think it needs a little bit more attention to detail on the interior front – but saying that, what the Mokka X does offer is the ability to get you out and about in decent comfort along with an excellent amount of safety features which are all honed on keeping you safe and sound.

Price from £20,930 OTR RRP.

The All-New Hyundai KONA

The All-New KONA is not just another car among Hyundai Motor's established SUV range - it is an important milestone of our journey to become Asian automotive brand number one in Europe by 2021," says Thomas A. Schmid, Chief Operating Officer at Hyundai Motor Europe.

The KONA offers the choice between two turbocharged, small-displacement petrol powertrains with high low-end torque and excellent fuel efficiency and optional four wheel drive.

A very high degree of connectivity for smart devices also adds to the appeal. The optional eight-inch infotainment system integrates all navigation, media and connectivity features, supporting both Apple Car-Play and Android Auto.

For the first time in a Hyundai, the KONA's new head-up display projects relevant driving information directly into the driver's line of sight. Its class-leading luminance and eight-inch image size enable not only effortless daylight visibility but also the faster processing of information while keeping attention on the road ahead.

The KONA also features Hyundai Motor's new family identity, the Cascading Grille with a mesh pattern at the front. A roof rack enhances the sleek roof line and enhances active lifestyle capability for example by mounting a roof carrier. The colour theme offers customers the chance to tailor their own style with distinct colours: Orange, Lime and Red.

The optional eight-inch infotainment system integrates all navigation, media and connectivity features. Today's customers like to listen to their favourite soundtrack's in their car, for this reason the KONA offers a high-end sound system by audio manufacturer Krell featuring eight speakers to maximise the audio experience inside the car.

The KONA boasts the latest active safety features, to comply with the highest European safety standards: Autonomous Emergency Braking with pedestrian detection, Lane Keeping Assist (standard), High Beam Assist, Driver Attention Alert (standard), Blind Spot Detection and rear cross traffic alert. Around the interior of the Kona a total of six airbags are installed.

For more information, please contact your local Hyundai dealership at Johnsons Cars Ltd, Botley, Oxford on 01865 566593.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

ALSO BREAKING 500 CARS ALL PARTS AVAILABLE

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk.motoring

Sainz in seventh heaven after promising debut wins points

By George Welch

F1 - Renault

IT was a debut to remember for new Renault driver Carlos Sainz who impressed with an error-free weekend at the United States Grand Prix.

The Spaniard, who replaced Jolyon Palmer, finished seventh stateside in the race won by Mercedes' Lewis Hamilton.

His impressive performance moved the Enstone-based team back up to seventh in the constructors' championship, leapfrogging Banbury-based Haas, despite team-mate Nico Hülkenberg retiring on lap three.

Sainz's fanfare debut could have reached fever pitch as the 23-year-old pushed hard to equal the team's season-best finishing position of sixth.

The former Toro Rosso driver tussled with the Force Indias, ending up sandwiched between Esteban Ocon (sixth) and Sergio Perez (eighth), and he clearly enjoyed the Renault drive in the Texan sun.

Sainz said: "It was a great debut for me with Renault and I really enjoyed myself out there.

"Right from the beginning, every lap I was feeling more confident with the car, so I was able to push harder.

"I was able to attack the Force Indias, which have been out of reach for the team for the past few races, so to overtake one and attack another was a great result.

"Everything has gone very smoothly the whole weekend. I knew I could be quick and I had confidence in myself."

Carlos Sainz finished a remarkable seventh in his first race for Renault Picture: Renault Sport Formula One Team

Hülkenberg wasn't so fortunate despite making a strong start as he was forced to retire when his car experienced an oil pressure drop early in the race.

The German said: "It's too bad things happened the way they did, I really enjoy it here but unfortunately my record hasn't been great.

"We had a problem with the oil pressure, it dropped so that forced us to retire and stop the race.

"Sometimes it just goes against you and that's the way it is. We'll turn it around in Mexico."

Renault will look to consolidate their position in the constructor's championship in Mexico City this weekend.

Tough home weekend for Haas as Mexico looms

F1 - Haas/Williams

HAAS face an uphill struggle to reclaim seventh spot in South America this weekend following a day to forget at their home race in Texas.

Renault overtook the Banbury-based outfit after Carlos Sainz collected six points for his new side but the Haas drivers were well adrift of the points.

Romain Grosjean started 12th and ran as high as ninth but crossed the line in 14th, while team-mate Kevin Magnussen brought his car home in 17th to round off a pointless weekend.

Felipe Massa collected two points to overtake team-mate Lance Stroll, who finished 11th Picture: Williams Martini Racing

He said: "Off track the weekend's been great with the fans. I'm very sorry we couldn't put on a better show from the team."

But the Haas team face a daunting visit to Mexico this weekend, where their drivers finished 19th and 20th last year.

Grosjean added: "We're all going to work hard. We know Mexico was tough on us last year but, hopefully, we find some solutions."

Grove-based Williams continue to lead the charge for fifth place following a pointless weekend from closest rivals Toro Rosso.

Felipe Massa crossed the line in ninth to pick up a couple of points while team-mate Lance Stroll finished just outside the points in 11th.

The result meant Massa leapfrogged Stroll into 10th in the drivers' championship.

The Brazilian ran as high as sixth before making his one-stop onto the ultrasoft tyre on lap 29, re-joining in P12 before climbing back up the order.

Pleased with his weekend's work, Massa said: "It was definitely a good result. It was a good race, and points were always what we were looking to achieve."

On the crest of a wave after winning trophy

Sailing

TEENAGE sailor Cameron Tweedle has won the British Finn Association Travellers Trophy for the second year running.

Racing in the men's heavyweight Olympic class, the 18-year-old from Oxford sailed to glory over seven regattas held during the year.

Having gained victories over the year at Weymouth and Alton Water, a second place at Warsash, Hampshire, earlier this month was enough to secure the title.

Tweedle, who first started racing aged eight as a pirate at Oxford Sailing Club, is naturally delighted by the win and has cemented his place at the top of the UK Finn under-23 squad.

He said: "It's been a really hard, long season this year, combining the UK events with racing on the international circuit, but now I'm racing and training full-time, my performances have taken a real boost.

"While the squad focus is most definitely on world and European Championships competition, it feels fantastic to have had the consistency throughout the year to win such a prestigious prize."

So what's next for the youngster?

"Although this is the end of the UK season, there's never really any break, as I'm pushing for a place in the British Olympic team," he said.

"I've got a couple of weeks here fitness training and working on technique at Farmoor before I head back to Weymouth to train alongside members of the Olympic squad through November."

Heat-off Smith as rider gets back in points in Australia

MotoGP

BRADLEY Smith put in an impressive performance to pick up points for the first time in three races at the Australian MotoGP.

His KTM team recorded their best result of the season with Smith and team-mate Pol Espargaro securing top-10 finishes together for the first time.

The pair, who were 16 seconds off outright winner Marc Marquez, fought tooth and nail to the line but it was Espargaro who pipped Smith by 0.011 seconds as they finished ninth and 10th respectively.

Forest Hill rider Smith, who collected six points to take his tally for the season to 20, said: "Starting from a great grid spot [ninth] meant I was determined to push on and stay inside the top-10.

"I knew I could do that following our post-Aragon GP test, something that our qualifying speed showed.

"I had a coming together with Johann Zarco on lap one which lost some time, but I could hold the leaders until halfway.

"The last lap was a huge battle with Pol but this is a great result for me and for all the guys who are working hard on this project so let's go to Sepang and finish this trio of races off in the right way."

With only two rounds of the 2017 campaign remaining, the MotoGP circuit heads to the penultimate race in Malaysia on Sunday.

Pair in GB squad

Commonwealth Games

OXFORD duo Nathan Douglas and Gemma Bridge have been selected to represent England at next year's Commonwealth Games.

The pair are part of a 75-strong team that will head to the Gold Coast, Australia, for the championships, which take place from April 4-15.

Triple jumper Douglas, 34, will compete in his fourth Commonwealth Games, while race walker Bridge, 24, only started competing full-time earlier this year and made her international debut in August.

City face early season six pointer

By George Welch

Oxford City

OXFORD City's league troubles continued with a third successive defeat at Hemel Hempstead Town on Saturday.

The 2-0 loss also extended the Hoops' winless run in the National League South to 11 matches.

City boss Mark Jones was his usual calm self afterwards, but there seemed to be an added frustration in the way he spoke. And who can blame him?

After another disappointing result, the struggling boss said: "Another week, another defeat and it's one that got away again.

"We've got a very, very big game against [20th placed] Concord on Saturday and that could be a six-pointer this early in the season."

He added: "We didn't do enough in the game overall and Hemel won it 2-0 reasonably comfortably.

"Our first half performance lacked energy or intensity and I think it was a case of too many people looking round for someone else to do it.

"We had the strong wind going for us in the first half and the idea was to put them under pressure.

"But I don't think Laurie Walker [in the Hemel goal] had a shot to save first half. The shots we did have were powder puff shots."

Charlie Sheringham powered Hemel into a 21st minute lead when the former Crystal Palace youngster wriggled in from the left to drive a shot through a flock of players and into the back of the net.

The Hoops got off to a nightmare start to the second half when Spencer McCall found the bottom corner on 50 minutes to make it 2-0 to the hosts.

The away side were handed a lifeline just after the hour when Horatio Hirst was brought down by former City stopper Walker.

Reece Fleet, pictured in action against Welling in August, missed a penalty against Hemel Hempstead. Picture: Michael Allen

Louis bags a brace to keep Puritans in the running

Banbury United

VETERAN striker Jefferson Louis continued to roll back the years with another two goals this week to help Banbury United keep in touch of the Southern Premier League play-offs.

The 38-year-old found the back of the net in Saturday's 2-0 win at home to Dorchester Town and Tuesday's 1-1 home draw with Chesham United.

The goal-happy forward netted his 12th and 13th goals of the campaign to keep the Puritans five points off the play-off places.

United made a flying start against Dorchester when Louis headed home a Tom Winters corner from six yards in the fourth minute.

Louis blazed over the bar 25 seconds into the second half, but United enjoyed the comfort of a two-goal cushion when Ravi Shamsi slotted the ball low into the corner of the net from 12 yards just after the hour.

Former Oxford City man Louis was at it again three days later when he nodded Banbury into a ninth minute lead against Chesham.

Chesham, now unbeaten in five, equalised just after the half hour when Lewis Toomey found a way past Jack Harding. Neither side were able to add to their first half goals and overall the draw was a fair result.

United, eighth in the Evo-Stik South Premier, travel to Tiverton Town on Saturday for the first qualifying round of the FA Trophy.

Greens go six unbeaten as they come from behind to beat neighbours

Evo Stik round up

KIDLINGTON came from behind to beat North Leigh 2-1 and extend their unbeaten run in all competitions to six matches.

The Greens claimed the north Oxfordshire bragging rights despite falling behind at Yarnton Road to a fifth minute Connor Waldon header on Saturday.

The early goal woke Kiddy up as Lance Williams and Lewis Coyle both went close to levelling the scores.

But Kidlington did manage to turn the game on its head with two goals in five first half minutes.

Lewis Gabbidon and Williams got the goals – and that's the way it stayed as North Leigh suffered their sixth defeat of the season.

Leigh got back to winning ways with a 1-0 win at home to Mangotsfield on Tuesday night. Oxford United loanee Dejon Noel-Williams got the winner on 65 minutes.

Felipe Barcelos netted his second in as many games as Didcot Town made it three league wins on the spin when they beat bottom club Bishop's Cleeve 1-0 on Saturday.

In the Evo-Stik South East, Thame United picked up their first home clean sheet of the season with a 3-0 win against Ashford Town (Middx). Adam Morris, Lynton Goss and Dan West got all the goals in the first half.

FA Vase

A 94th minute Steve Robertson winner squeezed Wantage Town into the second round of the Buildbase FA Vase.

The forward popped up to side foot home the decisive goal in an entertaining 4-3 win against Cadbury Heath on Saturday in what was a hectic game at Alfredian Park, partly due to Storm Brian.

The Freds took the lead midway through the first half when a Heath defender deflected the ball into the back of the net.

It took until 62 minutes for the next goal, Cadbury's Sacha Tong powering a penalty down the middle for the equaliser.

This sparked the visiting Gloucestershire side into life and netted a deserved second through Simon McElroy following a scramble in the box.

Jim Glover slammed home a Wantage equaliser with seven minutes remaining – but there was still time for more goals.

Town were back in front on 87 minutes when Jack Powell travelled 30 yards to slot under the keeper, only for Tong to convert a 90th minute penalty.

Robertson had the last say deep into injury time by scoring the seventh and final goal of the afternoon.

The Freds, who host Melksham Town in the next round on November 11, were without a league game this week but travel to league leaders Highworth Town on Saturday.

Abingdon United were the only Oxfordshire side with a Hellenic Premier fixture, but they lost 3-2 at home to Burnham on Saturday.

Shooting Stars hit 14 past woeful Buffalo

Ice hockey

OXFORD City Stars netted 14 times for the second time in as many weeks when they inflicted Basingstoke Buffalo's heaviest defeat of the season on Sunday.

Darren Elliott, Josh Oliver and Joe Edwards all netted hat-tricks as the visitors taught 'Stoke an ice hockey lesson in the 14-2 win.

Jake Florey, Dominic Hopkins, Conor Redmond and Mike Whillock also scored for one of the early-season pace setters.

Stars hit the deck running and took a fourth minute lead through Kamil Kinkor, but 'Stoke were back on level terms three minutes later thanks to Mark Austen.

That's as good as it got for the home side as Oxford re-took the lead through Edwards just 45 seconds later.

Kenny Redmond's side held a convincing 7-1 lead at the end of the second period following strikes from Elliott, Redmond, Oliver, Whillock and Edwards' second of the afternoon.

Red-hot Oxford were relentless and added another seven goals to the ever-inflating scoreline in the final 20 minutes. Goals nine and 10 were separated by 42 seconds and were carbon copies of each other with Oliver scoring and the assists going to Edwards.

Stars saved the best to last as their 14th came when man of the match Edwards skated in on the Buffalo goal from the half way line, feinted to shoot one way and tipped the puck into the goal.

Ninth-placed Buffalo had the last say when they added a late consolation goal through Oscar Evans.

Roberts determined to prove he can do it after a testing time

FORGOTTEN man James Roberts is determined to prove his worth to the team, despite not starting an Oxford United game since the club were in League Two.

The 21-year-old made his senior debut for the U's at the age of 18 in 2014 but, since then, his career has taken an undesired path.

The injury-hit striker hopes his still fledgling career is on the comeback trail following testing times both on and off the pitch.

He burst onto the scene with a brace in his first start, a 3-1 FA Cup win over Grimsby in November 2014, and played 26 times and scored five goals in all competitions that season.

But a mixture of injuries and the death of his 16-year-old brother Ben in October 2015 took its toll on him.

Several loan spells failed to reignite the promise shown in the early stages of his Oxford United career, which included five goals in eight games to lift Michael Appleton's first season in charge.

Speaking to the BBC, Roberts said: "Times change. I've had bad times of it outside of football and bad times of it inside football.

"People go through bad stages of it and people go through good stages. I had a purple patch when I first came on the scene and then I didn't.

"As long as you can be mentally strong, keep your head up and keep believing in yourself, there's no reason you can't take a bad stretch and turn it into a good stretch"

Roberts, who has made three United appearances this campaign, including a substitute league appearance against Bristol Rovers this month, is raring for more game time.

He said: "My main goal is to play football and score goals for Oxford United. If it takes me going out on loan to do so and prove to the gaffer I can put the ball in the net, then that's what it takes.

"Football's a game that changes very quickly and I like to think I can adapt very quickly."

Speculation grows as Thai investor in United box again

THAI businessman Sumrith Thanakarnjanasuth was once again spotted in the Kassam Stadium directors' box during Oxford United's 3-3 draw with Rotherham United on Saturday.

Thanakarnjanasuth, who had a stake in Sky Bet Championship side Reading until May, has been spotted at several United home and away matches recently.

Speculation has intensified over the club's future but involved parties are yet to comment on the situation.

One of those parties, chairman Darryl Eales, wasn't at the match but wrote in his programme notes that he was on business in the United States.

Uruguay businessman Juan Sartori and a separate Chinese consortium expressed desire in taking control of the Sky Bet League One club in March.

International debut for midfielder

YOUNGSTER Shandon Baptiste made his international debut for Grenada yesterday.

The midfielder started for the Caribbean side in their 5-0 friendly defeat at home to Panama.

The year has got better and better for the 19-year-old, who was born in Grenada before moving to the UK when he was three.

Baptiste, formally of Reading, earned his first professional contract and made his senior debut for the U's this year, coming on as a substitute in United's 6-2 Checkatrade Trophy win over Stevenage in August.

Hometown boy signs up for three years

JOSH Ruffels has committed to his hometown club by putting pen-to-paper on a new long-term contract at Oxford United.

The midfielder, who turned 24 on Monday, played his 100th league game for United earlier this season and is the club's longest-serving player.

The Oxford-born player has agreed a new deal that keeps him at the Kassam until 2020, with a further one-year option available.

His current contract was due to expire next summer having signed fresh terms when Michael Appleton was in charge in February.

Ruffels, who celebrated the new deal with a goal against Rotherham United on Saturday, said: "I'm really pleased to have sorted everything out. I have had a fantastic time ever since I signed with promotion, two games at Wembley and so many other great occasions as well.

"It's my home town club, everyone here is very progressive and ambitious and I am enjoying my football so it was an easy decision to sign."

Manager Pep Clotet added: "Josh is an excellent player and a fantastic pro. He has a lot of experience for someone who is still only 24 and we are delighted that he sees his future as being part of what we hope to build here."

Ruffels joined from Coventry City, where he made two substitute appearances, in 2013 as a development squad member and has gone on to make 141 U's appearances.

He has found the back of the net four times in 16 appearances in all competitions so far this season.

Clotet reflects on giving away three points

Drawing positives

By George Welch

Attendance: 7,471 (608 away)

PEP Clotet admitted he was 'unhappy' after his Oxford United side threw away a two-goal lead to draw 3-3 with Rotherham United on Saturday – but the Spaniard remains focused on the positives.

The U's immediately fought back from Joe Newell's 20th minute opener to command a 3-1 lead shortly before the break.

Goals from Jack Payne, Josh Ruffels and Curtis Nelson seemingly put the Yellows in charge, only for Ryan Williams to snatch a goal on the cusp of half time.

The lead could have been more commanding had Ryan Ledson converted a penalty just after the half hour.

Oxford dominated large patches of the second half but were pegged back by the Millers who equalised with 12 minutes to go when Kieffer Moore nodded home.

Reflecting on an entertaining 90 minutes, Clotet said: "Nobody's happy with the draw because the game looked good for us to take the win.

"But we were playing a good quality team and it just shows how good we're doing.

"We have a lot of players who are contributing a lot and they feel disappointed when you don't get the three points in these kind of games but it's about correcting those mistakes that we made and going forward."

The draw extended United's unbeaten run to five league games, a run that included three play-off chasing teams.

Clotet said: "I'm unhappy with the draw despite it extending our unbeaten run. This reflects positively on the team's progress and ambition."

He added: "It was a difficult game. Rotherham are very comfortably in the play-off positions having come down from the Championship and they're a strong team.

"We competed well – we created a lot of chances on goal and we had the chance to kill the game off but we didn't and in the end we got a draw."

United (7th) travel to Fleetwood Town (11th) on Saturday before they begin their FA Cup campaign with a trip to Port Vale, which has been moved to Friday, November 3 (7.45pm KO).

Taking a good performance into next game

ASSIST king Jack Payne has his glass half-full after Oxford United picked up 11 points from a 'tough' run of five games.

The on-loan attacking midfielder remained upbeat following Saturday's frustrating 3-3 draw with Rotherham United, in which the U's squandered a two-goal lead.

Despite throwing away a 3-1 lead, Payne remained positive.

He said: "Naturally, because we were 3-1 up, it's disappointing we didn't manage to hold on to get the win.

"But at the same time we went 1-0 down against a good team and we've shown a lot of character to come back so there's positives and negatives.

"We're unbeaten in five so it's all good."

United collected maximum points from Peterborough United, AFC Wimbledon and Bristol Rovers before picking up what could prove vital points against Charlton Athletic and Rotherham.

That totals 11 points from a possible 15 and five points taken from three teams with play-off aspirations.

Payne, whose goal tally for the season is up to three, added: "It's been a tough week but this is what we're about.

"We've got a lot of squad players and we worked hard to make sure we were fit and prepared for the week we had.

"Obviously we would have liked the three points but looking back we've done well this week with some really good performances to take into the next game."
